DETAILED ACTION

Claim 58-97 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 58 and 60-75, drawn to a method for making a targeted conjugate comprising a protease polypeptide and a translocation domain.

Group II, claim(s) 59, drawn to a method for making a targeted conjugate comprising a polynucleotide encoding a protease polypeptide.

Group III, claim(s) 76 and 78-93, drawn to a targeted conjugate comprising a protease polypeptide and a translocation domain.

Group IV, claim(s) 77, drawn to a targeted conjugate comprising a polynucleotide encoding a protease polypeptide.

Group V, claim(s) 94-97, drawn to a method of treatment using a targeted conjugate comprising a protease polypeptide and a translocation domain.

For each of Inventions I-V above, restriction to one of the following is also required under 35 USC 121. Therefore, election is required of one of Inventions I-V and one of Inventions (A)-(C), as indicated.

If any of Groups I-V is elected, elect one of:

(A.) A clostridial neurotoxin
(B.) An IgA protease
(C.) A protease other than (A) or (B)

The inventions listed as Groups I-V(A)-(C) do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical feature for the following reasons: The technical feature linking Groups I-V(A)-(C) appears to be that they all relate to targeted proteases comprising a translocation domain. However, targeted proteases comprising a translocation domain were known in the art. For example, North et al, 1994 (IDS) teach a targeted protease comprising a translocation domain, wherein the targeting agent is IGF-II, the protease is the light chain of botulinum toxin, and the translocation domain is the heavy chain of botulinum toxin (WO 94/21300; Claim 14), which anticipates Claim 76. Therefore Groups I-V(A)-(C) share no special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the prior art. Furthermore, the products of Groups III and IV do not share a special common structural and functional feature while, the methods of Groups I, II, and V do not use the same reagents or produce the same results. In addition, the methods of Groups I, II, and V do not comprise all of the methods for making or using the products of Groups III and IV. Accordingly, Groups I-V(A)-(C) are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are not linked by a special technical feature for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

(a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;

(b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;

(c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

(d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention and sub-invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Restriction between product and process claims has been required. Where Applicant elects claims directed to a product, and the product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the Official Gazette notice dated March 26, 1996 (1184 O.G. 86; see also M.P.E.P. 821.04, In re Ochiai, and In re Brouwer). Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right, if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. To be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

To insure that each document is properly filed in the electronic file wrapper, it is requested that each of amendments to the specification, amendments to the claims, Applicants' remarks, requests for extension of time, and any other distinct papers be submitted on separate pages.

It is also requested that Applicants identify support, within the original application, for any amendments to the claims and specification.
